Curious Kids' Museum Moving to Heritage Museum Site

The Curious Kids' Museum in St. Joseph is planning a big move.

The organization announced it is purchasing the Priscilla Upton Byrns Center, the soon-to-be-former home of the Heritage Museum and Cultural Center at 601 Main Street.

Curious Kids Director Lori Marciniak tells us following a fire at its location on Lake Boulevard in 2022, Curious Kids decided to expand and renovate. However, that proved difficult when the city of St. Joseph declined to sell the building to the museum. The Heritage Museum then approached Curious Kids and the idea of moving into that building came into focus.

Marciniak says Curious Kids does want to maintain some presence at its current location on Lake Boulevard.

"While we still have 20 years left on our lease, we do think that the city has different plans for that building ultimately. And so, we wanted to make sure that we're celebrating our 35th year as the Cary's Kids Museum in St. Joseph, Michigan. And we wanted to try to figure out how to stay in St. Joe and still have a big presence," said Marciniak.

For now, Marciniak says the plan is to modify the Heritage building with some construction next year. A fundraising campaign to support that effort has started.

Meanwhile, Heritage Museum Board Treasurer Sven Erickson tells us Priscilla Upton Byrns Center was once a bustling venue popular for weddings, concerts, and meetings, but in recent years, the events have dried up. That's meant the loss of the museum's main income stream.

"We decided, okay, let's right size our organizations. We needed less space, they needed more, and so we just got the building appraised, and we came to a number that we agreed on and that's how it all happened," said Erickson.

The Heritage Museum is preparing to move its massive archives to a temporary site at Ship and Main Street before settling on its next moves. Its former director, Marco Tomasi,

Fun and interesting things to do in Southwest Michigan

What a wonderful time of year and we've had perfect fall temperatures to match it. It's the season of abundant apples, cider, pumpkins, mums, gourds, and a cornucopia of vegetables. We also have one of the most beautiful areas in the United States to view autumn's array of reds, oranges, yellows, and golds.

Prepare for a night of spine-chilling thrills and glamorous delights at Tabor Hill's annual Terror at Tabor Halloween Party. Step into the world of haunted Hollywood as we roll out the red carpet and bring the silver screen to life with a terrifying twist. Join them for a night that will transport you to the glitz and glamour of Tinseltown's darkest secrets. This event will be at Tabor Hill's Estate Tent on Saturday, October 26 at 6:00 p.m.

Peat's Cider will host a fang-tastic night of Boowling Bingo on the eve of Halloween, Wednesday, October 30 at 4:00 p.m. Get ready to roll in style by wearing your spookiest costume and bring your A-game to the lanes. Spooktacular prizes for the best-dressed and bingo winners. Ghoulishly good drink specials to keep the spirits high and delectable delights from Jalapeño Grill. Grab your gang, dust off your bowling shoes, and get ready for a hauntingly good time. Make this Halloween one to remember with strikes, spares, and scares.

Vocal and instrumental soloists and ensembles will share the Lake Michigan College Mendel Center Jenkins Theatre stage with jazz artists Kim Nazarian and Jay Ashby during the Jazz Festival presented by the LMC Visual & Performing Arts Department at 7:00 p.m. Saturday, November 2. The public concert is a highlight of the two-day jazz festival conducted by the Grammy-recognized artists on the Benton Harbor campus.

Join Froehlich's to celebrate German heritage at their 4th annual Noktoberfest! Featuring the 35-piece German band, Ein Prosit, complete with a full Alpen horn section (think Ricola commercials). It's fun for the whole family featuring an authentic German buffet, music, and dancing. A full cash bar will also be available featuring beer, wine, spirits, and specialty German cocktails on November 2 at 6:00 p.m.

A two-time Top Gun award recipient, PGA professional golfer, philanthropist, and USA Today bestselling author Lt. Col. Dan Rooney is a United States Air Force F-16 fighter pilot who has a life calling of "inspiring people to help people." Folds of Honor, the foundation he established in 2007, has provided nearly 52,000 life-changing scholarships totaling approximately $244 million to children and spouses of fallen or disabled military service members and first responders. See Lt. Col. Rooney Thursday, November 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the Lake Michigan College Mendel Center where he will incorporate messages of leadership, fighter pilot lessons, unlocking talents through faith, and embracing resistance with a resilient spirit.

The band Hickory Creek Revival is made up of four siblings who grew up playing folk and bluegrass music in St. Joseph back in the '70s. Now the Willeys are returning to their hometown for a concert on Friday, November 8, beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Box Factory for the Arts. The Willeys began playing music together as teens under the name Hickory Creek. Although they have since dispersed throughout Michigan and followed different musical paths, the four continue to perform together and have revived the band as, fittingly, Hickory Creek Revival. Band members are Andy Willey on guitar, Rick on fiddle and mandolin, Bob on banjo and harmonica, and Rose Willey joining her brothers on vocals.

Putting Yourself Last

Submit to one another out of reverence for Christ. ~ Ephesians 5:21

You won't get very far in life putting yourself last. There are not many CEOs who have a history of making sure their coworkers receive all the attention. The star athlete probably didn't spend most of their practice time making sure others got enough reps. World-famous artists spend more time working on their own craft than helping others develop their skills.

Our God doesn't work like the world works, and his people don't work like the world works. God tells his people to submit to one another out of reverence for Christ. Because we know it is what Jesus wants, we submit to the wants and needs of other Christians in our lives.

God doesn't give us this command to submit to one another because he wants us to underachieve or to have lives where we are walked on. Instead, God gave us this command because loving Christ means knowing what Christ does with those who humble themselves and submit to others.

This command is given to us by the God who says the first will be last and the last will be first. He is the same God who put Joseph in a position over all of Egypt, even though he once submitted as a slave. He is the God who elevated David to king, even as David submitted to wicked Saul. It is the God who willfully submitted himself even to death on a cross that we might be lifted up.

God does not work like the world works, and so we don't work like the world works. God accomplishes so much of his work and gives so many of his blessings as we submit to one another. Not making demands or looking out for ourselves but by putting others' needs in front of our own and making their will our priority, we submit ourselves to one another. All of this is out of reverence for Christ and in response to what he was willing to submit to in order to save us.

Prayer: Mighty God, help me to submit to others out of reverence for Christ. Amen.

New Columns Again! Just, um, Wait. . .

Hopefully you're gonna like hearing why I submitted a bunch of "encore" columns recently; it's because I was busy accumulating more little red push pins.

See, I was traveling, by air, land, river, and my two often-weary legs, on a tour of five Eastern European nations. Upon returning, I popped little red push pins into the outlines of those nations on a little cork globe that No. 3 son gifted us a couple Christmases ago.

Whew! Taking some deep breaths here, and I suggest you join me. My deep breathing benefits me because I've just accomplished a task I've been sorta dreading – knocking off the first two paragraphs of a 23-column-long reminiscence of this trip! Your deep breathing will, I hope, prepare you to endure a 23-column long reminiscence of this trip!

When crafting a travelogue of such depth and breadth, a writer should meticulously avoid wallowing in minutiae that doesn't "drive the narrative." And as you well know, I am NOT that writer! So, let's get started!

Wait, sorry, we gotta wait. Because things got off to a bit of a slow start. Although my wife and I got TSA pre-check, supplemented by the Mobile Passport Control (MPC) app, things were not-so-fast the day we departed.

My wife had no problem – she breezed through. I, on the other hand, chose a "faster" lane. And got delayed for nearly the length of a trans-Atlantic flight. It was the fault of two guys. The first guy had a carry-on that was chock Chock CHOCK-full of photographic equipment and supplies. Including, by my count, 73 rolls of film. (Remember film?) Every piece of equipment, and EVERY ONE of those 73 rolls of film, had to be swabbed with that plasticky paper that helps detect explosives. The guard actually RAN OUT of swabs.

As for the second guy who slowed my "fast" TSA pre-check: This guy's carry-on bag contained a tube of goo used for the occasional relief of achy joints. This tube was 2.3 ounces over the official goo limit. It almost got tossed away, but the guy begged it was medicinal, and TSA relented. But it had to be swabbed. And some goo squeezed out. And that goo had to be tested. So I'm stuck waiting for this, frankly wishing this guy had been smart enough to pack his goo in his checked luggage. I also wished this guy wasn't me. But it was.

Okay, now for a whiplash-inducing change of scenery! We're now in Munich, Germany, trudging toward the gate for our flight to our destination, Warsaw, Poland. It was both pleasing – in a schadenfreude kind of way – and displeasing – in a "Dang!, more delays!" kind of way – to learn that German air travel can be just as snafu-ed as America's!

I mean, we walked about a mile and a half to the gate for Warsaw. We waited, and then were bussed BACK the SAME mile and a half that we'd walked, on the way to a distant tarmac with our plane. Then we waited for several more unplanned minutes for catering to deliver our tepid beverages and stale cookies.

But we finally made it to Warsaw, with only one more little delay while deplaning – a carry-on fell into the aisle and flew open. Spilling 73 rolls of film.

Win by Losing . . .

Weight loss is a widely discussed topic today. It's no secret that obesity affects a significant portion of the U.S. population, impacting individuals of all ages.

Why do we struggle with our weight more than ever? The evidence seems to point to multiple factors.

Chemical additives found in processed foods deceive the part of our brain that signals fullness, leading to increased cravings for more food. The pesticides used on crops, along with plastics and various chemicals in personal care products, cause hormonal disruptions in our bodies that affect our metabolism and calorie processing.

The use of antibiotics in food production and for medical treatments can disrupt our gut microbiome, which plays a vital role in producing hormones that help regulate appetite and insulin levels.

Handheld tablets and household gadgets have simplified our day-to-day tasks lessening our need for physical exercise and reducing our overall energy burn, causing our body to store unused energy as fat tissue. The widespread inclusion of sugar in many grocery items, except for meat and fresh produce, plays a significant role in food addiction and results in excess calories being stored as fat. And let's not forget about the impact of menopause and the power of genetic predisposition in weight gain.

Step one is to take control of your lifestyle with conscious and intentional food intake. Whole, unprocessed foods, ideally from a local organic farmer, will limit chemical exposure.. It's also crucial to include regular physical activity and work on increasing muscle mass. Additionally, cutting out or greatly reducing alcohol consumption is essential to weight loss.

For many individuals, medication serves as a means to silence the persistent chatter of food cravings. Glucagon-like peptide-1 (GLP-1) receptor agonists are a category of medications designed to address type 2 diabetes and obesity. They function by delaying the emptying of the stomach and stimulating insulin release from the pancreas as necessary. This means you'll experience reduced hunger and feel full more quickly. These medications have been shown to lower blood pressure, improve lipid disorders, decrease fatty liver disease, and decrease the risk of vascular disease and kidney disease.

While these medications are not the ultimate answer to obesity, they serve as a vital support system for individuals facing challenges with their weight loss journey.

In our practice, we provide an in-depth weight loss program, overseen by medical professionals. Our extensive program includes education and guidance with diet, exercise, and the use of GLP-1 medications as a resource to help you achieve your weight loss and fitness objectives.

Budget Blinds Child Safety Program

An exciting part of having this weekly column is the ability to highlight our members who are doing some amazing things in the community, such as Budget Blinds of South Bend, Mishawaka, Elkhart, & St. Joseph with their "Trade In/Trade Up for Child Safety" Program. In an effort to make the world a safer place, especially for our youngest family members, industry standards and safety regulations continue to be updated. These updates have a positive impact on even the smallest of details - such as window coverings for home.

In light of a new safety standard that went into effect on June 1, 2024, Budget Blinds of South Bend, Mishawaka, Elkhart & St. Joseph is helping to make homes safer by launching a special promotion, "Trade In/Trade Up for Child Safety." This initiative encourages homeowners to trade in their old, corded blinds or shades for safer cordless options or motorization blinds, reducing the risk of child strangulation incidents related to corded window coverings.

The updated Window Cover Safety Standard mandates that all custom-made window coverings be motorized, cordless or have short inaccessible helper cords, or cord loops with a tension device eliminating free hanging operating cords and tilt cords. As October is Window Covering Safety Month and November is National Child Safety and Protection Month, Budget Blinds of South Bend, Mishawaka, Elkhart, & St. Joseph is committed to raising awareness about the importance of child-safe window coverings in the home.

Through the "Trade In/Trade Up for Child Safety" promotion, customers will receive a $25 credit for each old corded blind or shade you trade-in. Additionally, with your new window treatment purchase, you'll receive 30% off on your new child-safe window treatments.

"We're excited to help our community take an important step toward safer homes," said Tara Gallagher, Sales and Marketing Assistant of Budget Blinds of South Bend, Mishawaka, Elkhart, & St. Joseph. "Our Trade In/Trade Up promotion makes it easier for families to upgrade to the latest, most secure window covering options that align with the new standards. We're proud to support the safety of children in our area through this initiative."

The team at Budget Blinds is dedicated to making this transition as easy as possible by providing a range of cordless and motorized window covering options that suit any style or need. To take advantage of the Trade In/Trade Up promotion, or for more information on window covering safety, customers can contact Budget Blinds of South Bend, Mishawaka, Elkhart, & St. Joseph at 574-277-6800. Some exclusions may apply; call the store for details.

About Budget Blinds of South Bend, Mishawaka, Elkhart, & St. Joseph

Serving the local community with quality window covering solutions for over 20 years, Budget Blinds of South Bend, Mishawaka, Elkhart, & St. Joseph offers a wide selection of custom window treatments, including blinds, shades, shutters, drapery and motorization. Their team is dedicated to enhancing both the style and safety of homes. With their showroom located in Granger, Indiana they service all of Berrien County, St. Joseph, and Elkhart Counties. With separate websites for each territory, including Budget Blinds of St. Joseph, where they make it easy to find and upgrade to child-safe window covering options. Visit them online at budgetblinds.com/saint-joseph-mi/ or call for more information.

Why is all of this important information to know? Since 1973, 440 children under the age of 8 years old have been strangled by a cord from a window covering - with approximately 9 children every year continuing to die from them. If you've been around kids, especially toddlers, you know how quickly they can get away from you. Budget Blinds is helping to reduce the odds and take away that slim possibility completely. And, an extra bonus, even something small like window coverings can greatly increase the look and feel of your home.

A Taste of Tradition: Rediscovering LakeHouse Restaurant and Bar

Glen & Shelly Head

Glen: For years, locals enjoyed the food and breathtaking views of LakeHouse Restaurant and Bar at the corner of Hilltop and Lakeshore Drive in St. Joseph. However, in early 2023, this beloved establishment closed due to water damage and the family's decision to exit the hospitality industry. After more than a year of closure, it reopened in July, bringing joy back to both locals and tourists.

Co-owner Sam Akiti explained, "We wanted to preserve the LakeHouse's legacy while also infusing it with our own unique identity." He noted that launching in July during the busy tourism season was a bit overwhelming, but the team gained valuable experience and has since refined their service and menu."

We were impressed by the beautiful presentation of two different shrimp appetizers served by our server, Jenni Cowsert. The Bang Bang Shrimp is a popular choice, featuring crispy, tender shrimp tossed in a creamy, spicy sauce. The Blackened Grilled Shrimp were equally delicious, coated in bold, smoky, and spicy seasonings before being grilled to perfection. Each shrimp was served atop a cucumber slice and creamy slaw, creating an excellent contrast between hot and cool, as well as a delightful variation in textures.

General Manager Mendim Akiti (Sam's son) recommended we try the Classic Burger with Swiss, which was cooked medium rare as requested. The burgers are charbroiled, resulting in a juicy patty with a savory, smoky, and umami-rich flavor, enhanced by the crisp grill marks. I think this cooking method elevates the natural taste of the beef, making the burger more flavorful. It came with a generous portion of coated fries, adding extra crunch. I paired my meal with a pint of Salted Caramel Porter from the bar.

"We have a full bar and are constantly expanding our selection. We also offer Happy Hour every day from 4-6:30 p.m.," Mendim shared.

As a fan of Greek salads, I was thrilled to see the Mediterranean Salad on the menu. The dish was vibrant, filled with fresh ingredients and large chunks of feta cheese. A few anchovies and firm green olive slices added occasional bursts of saltiness that complemented the milder flavors of the vegetables. The Greek dressing was superb, with a slight tang and saltiness that enhanced the salad's natural taste, while a sprinkle of oregano added a fragrant touch. Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle would surely agree that this Greek salad is exceptional!

We concluded our visit by splitting a loaded Ribeye topped with blue cheese. The blue cheese significantly elevated the flavor profile, offering a creamy, tangy, and slightly pungent contrast to the beef's richness. Each bite of the savory ribeye was beautifully complemented by the sharp essence of the blue cheese, creating a delightful balance. The combination of the tender meat and bold, creamy cheese resulted in a luxurious taste experience, with the blue cheese adding depth and decadence. Two golden onion rings topped the entrée, enhancing the flavor even further. Once again, the kitchen cooked the steak to perfection. The loaded baked potato was impressive, providing a meal on its own.

The property has a fascinating history as a former mansion and offers unique opportunities for group gatherings. We held a MailMax Christmas party in one of the upstairs private rooms back in 2001. According to the Akitis, they frequently host groups looking for larger, private spaces and can even accommodate early breakfast catering. The ownership team, which includes Jay Patel, is dedicated to ongoing improvement. They are introducing new menu items, planning to upgrade the patio furniture for their stunning lakeview patio, and are excited to announce that weekend brunch will be launching soon.

If you've never visited or haven't been in a while, I recommend giving LakeHouse Restaurant & Bar a try and letting me know what you think.

Shelly: When I return to LakeHouse Restaurant and Bar, I want to try the Perch Dinner.

New President Named for Whirlpool Foundation

Change is happening at the executive level of Whirlpool Corporation this week as the company made an unexpected announcement this month about the retirement of Pam Klyn, Executive Vice President for Corporate Relations and Sustainability.

A company statement indicates Klyn is staying involved with Whirlpool Corporation and has now been named as President of the Whirlpool Foundation.

"As Klyn takes on this new role, she will be transitioning some of her current accountabilities to other executive company leaders. This will allow her to focus more directly on driving positive impact in the community."

Klyn was named to her most recent role on January 1, 2022. Prior to that, Klyn was a Vice President in Whirlpool Corporation's Global Product Organization. According to her online bio, during her time with the company, Klyn has held advancing roles in engineering, product development, global innovation, and marketing. From 2013 to 2015, she lived in Italy and served as the Vice President of Products & Brands for Whirlpool EMEA.

Klyn was hired into the company's Technical Excellence Program in 1993 after graduating from Michigan Technological University with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering.

A company statement said Klyn will continue to represent Whirlpool Corporation in community-based efforts such as local community organization boards including the Executive Committee of the Cornerstone Alliance board and the Operating Committee for Harbor Shores Redevelopment and co-leading the Whirlpool Community Charity Golf Event, which has raised more than $34 million for Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Southwest Michigan, First Tee of Benton Harbor, and local public school foundations, positively impacting 10,000 local youth each year. Klyn will also continue to play a leadership role in Whirlpool Corporation's strategic relationships with Habitat for Humanity and The Washing Machine Project.

"I greatly appreciate Pam's dedication and service to Whirlpool Corporation over the past three decades, and her contributions are to be commended," said Marc Bitzer, Chairman and CEO, Whirlpool Corporation. "Pam's continued leadership with the Whirlpool Foundation will be invaluable as we build on the meaningful impact of Whirlpool Corporation in the various communities where we operate, and she will undoubtedly continue to make a difference."

Martin Luther King III to Celebrate Monuments

The Unified Civic Monuments Project has announced that Martin Luther King III, the eldest son of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Coretta Scott King, will visit the Twin Cities community as the honored guest and speaker at a celebration of the double unveiling of monuments dedicated to his father.

According to an announcement from the UCMP organizers, on Tuesday, November 19, festivities will begin at 10:30 a.m. with an unveiling ceremony at the monument site in the Margaret B. Upton Arboretum in St. Joseph. At 11:00, all attendees are invited to march with the Benton Harbor and St. Joseph high school bands to the Benton Harbor Dwight P. Mitchell City Center Park. The Benton Harbor unveiling ceremony begins there at 11:30.

At 1:30 p.m., the Unified Civic Monuments Project and the Lake Michigan College Speaker Series will welcome the public to a free special engagement featuring Mr. King at the LMC Mendel Center Grand Upton Hall. During the event, "A Conversation with Martin Luther King III," Mr. King will touch on a variety of topics including the importance of continuing the struggle for civil rights and the importance of individual action in making his father's dream a reality.

Reservations for free general admission seating at the 1:30 p.m. Speaker Series event may be made at bit.ly/mlk3talk. Reservations are encouraged to guarantee seating. Free general admission may also be available at the door up to the venue capacity.

A limited amount of bus transportation will be available between the two monument sites, to the Mendel Center, and back. Food trucks will be available on the grounds of the Mendel Center beginning at 11:30 a.m. Food and specialty beverage tickets for the food trucks may be purchased in the Grand Upton Hall Lobby. Cash and credit cards will be accepted. Attendees are also welcome to bring their own lunch. Complimentary lemonade, iced tea and water will be available inside Grand Upton Hall.

Volunteers to serve as ushers at the unveiling are encouraged to reach out at unifiedmonuments.org/contact or through the UCMP Facebook page.

To learn more about the ongoing programming of this project, including updates to the unveiling celebrations, please visit UnifiedMonuments.org.

Financial Expert
The Ramsey Show

Dave Says
Be Gentle, but Don't Fund Financial Irresponsibility

Dear Dave,

My wife and I are debt-free, and we live on a budget. My mother-in-law, on the other hand, uses credit cards for practically every purchase. Several times she has gone too far and run up balances she couldn't pay off. We bail her out when she does this, but often the extra purchases are frivolous things she doesn't need. We love her, of course, and we feel obligated to help because my wife is her only child. But her behavior with credit cards is beginning to put a strain on our finances. What should we do?

Charles

Dear Charles,

This is a tough situation, one that's made even tougher by the fact that involves a close, loved family member. A very blunt, but caring, discussion is in order. But it needs to be initiated by your wife—not you. This is important, because if you try to step in and take the lead on things, you'll immediately become the mean son-in-law in her eyes.

You and your wife need to be completely on the same page about this situation, but she's the one who needs to approach mom and talk things out. She needs to sit down with her mom, and very gently let her know you two have talked, and you've decided together that you won't be picking up the pieces where her overspending is concerned anymore. Your wife also needs to tell her the two of you are willing to help her work on handling money a little better, and walk her through making and living on a monthly budget. Your wife could even explain that's what you guys do, and it's one of the reasons you're in such good financial shape.

Here's what it comes down to. You wouldn't buy her more drugs if you found out she was an addict, right? Along the same lines, you're not helping this lady by bailing her out every time she creates a money mess. You're enabling her when you do this, and that's the same as telling her it's okay.

Work with her, Charles. Teach her, both of you, and love on her. Let her know you're there to help. If things get really bad, you can pay her light bill, or even buy her some groceries if the pantry gets a little bare. Hopefully, it won't come to anything that serious.

But one thing needs to be clear. You folks are not bailing her out anymore when she misbehaves with money.

— Dave
